FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

For Immediate Release
End the violence and increase the peace
We won't rest until all wars foreign and domestic cease
Or until a father no longer gets the news that his son that just walked to the corner store is deceased
See this war isn't just overseas
Its living breathing and spilling blood right here in these streets
Young victims being gunned down because of the color of their skin and the shoes on their feet
Drive-bys daily take away the hearts beat
Don't you think it's a pun, when they scream take away the guns
In reality it's not the guns
We are the dangerous ones
We would rather scream and shout than take the time to work it out
Sometimes I don't think we know where it started or what it's even about
We shove instead of giving love
We lack the peace that passes all understanding
Every circumstance and situation has to end in a crash landing
And you can only win if you are the last man standing
It's time to end this insanity
For the sake of all of humanity
As we are one human family
Our roots run deep like a forest full of trees
All of us sway to the same breeze
We are so intimately connected
If one of us is neglected we are all negatively affected
Next time anger rears its ugly head
Reject it instead
In your loudest and proudest voice
Declare violence isn't a given, it's a choice

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

End the violence and increase the peace.
We won't rest until all wars foreign and domestic cease,
Or until a father no longer gets the news
his son that just walked to the corner store is deceased.
See this war isn't just overseas;
Its living breathing and spilling blood right here in these streets,
Young victims being gunned down because of the color of their skin and the shoes on their feet.
Daily drive by shootings stop too many heart beats.
Don't you think it's a pun,
when they scream take away the guns.
In reality it's not the guns.
We are the dangerous ones.
We would rather scream and shout than work it out.
I don't think we know where it started or what it is even about.
We shove instead of giving love.
And we lack the peace that passes all understanding.
Every circumstance and situation has to end in a crash landing,
And you can only win if you are the last man standing.
It's time to end this insanity,
For the sake of all of humanity.
We are one human family.
Our roots run deep like a forest full of trees.
We all sway to the same breeze.
We are intimately connected.
When one of us is neglected, we are all affected.
Next time anger rears its ugly head,
Reject it instead
In your loudest, proudest voice.

Declare that violence isn't a given, it's a choice.
