Christie in a jam

Messages link a governor's aide to the traffic woes in Fort Lee. Christie said he was misled by his aide, and he denied any involvement in the apparent act of political payback.

“ I am outraged and deeply saddened to learn that not only was I misled by a member of my staff, but this completely inappropriate and unsanctioned conduct was made without my knowledge. One thing is clear: This type of behavior is unacceptable and I will not tolerate it because the people of New Jersey deserve better. ”
